

Welcome to CRF

The Corporate Registers Forum (CRF) is an international not for profit organisation for administrators of corporate and securities registers.

Our aim is to provide delegates with the opportunity to review the latest developments in corporate business registers internationally and exchange experiences and information on the present and future operation of corporate business registration systems.

Who can join the Corporate Registers Forum?

Membership of the Corporate Registers Forum is open to any jurisdiction.

At the third meeting held in Hong Kong in 2006 it was agreed that the CRF would be registered under the Hong Kong Business Ordinance as an unincorporated entity.

The charter members were Australia, Canada, Hong Kong, India, Malaysia, Mauritius, New Zealand, Pakistan, Samoa, Singapore, United Kingdom and Vanuatu.

Benefits of membership

When you join the Corporate Registers Forum you gain access to an international network of registry professionals.

An annual conference is combined with the Annual General Meeting and provides delegates with the opportunity to review the latest developments in corporate business registers internationally and exchange experiences and information on the present and future operation of corporate business registration systems.

Through the members section of the Corporate Registers Forum website you can join online discussions, learn more about other Forum members and have access to online interaction with other corporate registry managers.

Membership fees

A membership fee is payable annually and the subscription rate is decided at each Annual General Meeting.

Visit the Corporate Registers Forum website for the current subscription fee.

How to join

To join the Corporate Registers Forum go to the About CRF section of our website at www.corporateregistersforum.org.

The Secretariat will then contact you regarding your application.

More information

Visit our website for more information about the Corporate Registers Forum and if you are interested in joining please contact the Secretariat.